Warmest thanks extend to Jack Lavety and Sandy Stonach for their unstinting hard work and to the Denwood Range Committee for the use once again of their excellent range.

Although Bill Moonie has killed some of the drama by winning the Championship and top prize of £80 value again with one round to spare, there remains much to shoot for and enjoy at the last 1984 Open meeting at Gagie on 16th September, for example, the next three places in the Final Order of Merit will share £120 value (£60, £40 and £20 respectively) and a win in the Grand Prix will give automatic entry to the 1985 team squad. Early entries are recommended to ensure your preferred squadding as there are only 18 points (in 4 details).

There is also the 1985 Team Trials, for which the postal stage (double Dewar) has to be completed by Tuesday, 25th September, with the Final Trial at Denwood on 7th October. Entry fee £1; telephone R. Normand for stickers (day Johnstone 21543, evening 041-959 6589).

Bob Normand.
